

2011 Jinan International Health and Longevity Forum & Health Industry Expo

Welcome to the 3rd International Health and Longevity Forum & Health Industry Expo, to be held in JiNan, China 5 November to 9 November 2011.

The International Research Institute of Health, Fitness and Longevity and “China Women's News” have pleasure in inviting you to attend this conference and expo which builds on the success of the last two conventions.

The theme of this conference is the development of health science to build a harmonious world. It aims to promote international communication and co-operation, advance the latest in health ideas and scientific research and enhance the growth of the health and longevity industry.

Join the experts of health, fitness & longevity when we gather in JiNan to exchange ideas on the way of health and explore the latest achievement in the field of human health.

The conference program will include academic exchange, expert lecturers and health care consultations.

We will also invite famous health care masters to perform and give demonstrations.

Other activities, such as Health & Longevity photo collection and health knowledge lectures, will be held alongside the Forum and Expo.

The conference will be in Chinese with English translations.

This year, we are proud to include the first Council meeting of the International Health Fitness and Longevity Academic Research Institute.
